Clinical Trials

- Human Testing or Animal Testing
- Foreign or Domestic
- Medical or Non-Medical
- Manufacturing or Educational
- Research and Development

Future medical developments will depend on continued clinical research & trials. Products Liability normally does not include liability of an unproven, unregulated product in its testing stages. Trials are conducted in phases that can span years animals in early stages and then humans at later stages. All clinical trials are different and there are uninsured liabilities the entire clinical trial stages. It is important to make certain that the Clinical Trials Liability policy you consider are specifically written to cover all the exposures for the anticipated trials.

Many clinical trials with H5N1 & pandemic influenza vaccines are being conducted by the IFPMA IVS members.
